DIARY NOTES

DD/S W JH

9 September 1963

1. At the Executive Committee Meeting this morning:
 - a. It was announced that hearings on our retirement legislation would resume on Wednesday, 11 September, at 10 o'clock.
 - b. Mr. Kirkpatrick announced that the President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board will meet on Friday, 13 September. Undoubtedly the subject of uniform security clearance procedures for the intelligence community will be discussed in some detail. (I arranged for Bob Bannerman to get a copy of his paper on this subject to Dick Helms, who is expected to talk about our counter-intelligence posture.)
2. With regard to Joe Young's column of 4 September, [REDACTED] reported that he had learned that the Agency received a draft regulation on this subject sometime during the month of August and it was sent to the Medical Staff for comment by 16 September. 25X1A9a
3. I asked Bob Bannerman to consider the Southwest location for our downtown office building and to develop for me by Wednesday or Thursday the best reasons he could why this would be a more acceptable location for us than the other two suggested by the Public Buildings Service. H
4. Bob Bannerman reported that [REDACTED] will assume his duties as Deputy Director of Security on Monday, 16 September. In this connection, I discussed the desirability of [REDACTED] Howard attending the Advanced Management Program at Harvard. Bob considers this to have been very valuable training for him and would like to see them both go at some time. Assuming that Howard selects Harlan as his Deputy, Bob would hope that Harlan could go next spring. 25X1A9a

5. At the Senior Staff Meeting this morning General Carter talked about the Mid-Career Course. He said that he expected this course to become comparable to the service schools in the armed services. Next to the JOT course he regards this as the most important in the Agency and directed that all Deputy Directors lend their full support to this course and select candidates with the greatest potential.

6. On the annual GSI barge trip tonight I chatted with Robert Walleigh of the Bureau of Standards about their construction program which is well underway. He said that they have awarded about $80 million worth of contracts and are now getting ready for the last bite, which I believe he said was for $11 million. This

7. I talked to Emmett Echols about [REDACTED] at which time we agreed that if [REDACTED] does not go to [REDACTED] we would let [REDACTED] go to DD/S&T for one year. If Charlie does go, then we have to decide whether [REDACTED] is to become the Chief of the Benefits and Services Division or go to DD/S&T. If the former, then we have to come up with an acceptable candidate for the DD/S&T job.
